Dear parents/ Carers,

Starting this week, we have launched an exciting new reading competition! It involves every child in school working together, as a class, to win the weekly competition and a half termly prize.

Every time your child reads at home, playtime or before school starts, they will earn a 'read'; the total amount of 'reads' for that week, will be added up for the whole class and shared in a weekly assembly. The winning class will win the reading trophy and be moved along the Reading Race Track. At the end of the half term, the class furthest along the race track will win an awesome prize from the prize catalogue that they will choose.

Please complete your child's reading record so we know they have read. If your child completes their own, you must also sign or initial it to say they have read. If your child chooses to read before school and during breaks at school an adult in school will sign it for them so that this counts towards the competition.

Please encourage your child to read as much as possible as it will help towards their education.

"The more you read
the more things you know.
The more that you learn the more places you'll go."
-Dr. Seuss
